

SELF INSPECTION PROGRAM

The Roseburg Fire Department has implemented a self-inspection program for businesses within the City. This program provides an opportunity for the city business community to form a partnership in fire and life safety. This program is for businesses which statistically have a lower incident of fire, and code violations. This program is unique in that it meets basic goals common to both the owner/manager and the fire department. These goals include maintaining a reasonable level of fire and life safety standards, while providing a minimal amount of business disruption. This concept allows a business to meet the annual requirement for fire inspection through self-inspection. The program is designed to have the fire department perform an inspection of your business every third year, which allows the fire department to concentrate our inspection efforts on businesses or occupancies that pose a greater risk of fire or have demonstrated a higher incident of fire code violations.
